¿Qué es ORCID?

- ORCID es una organización abierta y sin fines de lucro dirigida por y para la comunidad de investigación.
- ORCID proporciona a los investigadores un identificador único (y persistente), un ORCID iD, que los conecta de manera confiable y clara con sus contribuciones de investigación, afiliaciones, financiación e instalaciones.
- Un ORCID iD NO es un perfil de autor ni un control de autoridades
- ORCID proporciona herramientas abiertas (ORCID iDs, Registro & APIs) que permiten conexiones transparentes entre los investigadores y los identificadores de sus actividades y contribuciones.

“ORCID es oooooo otro de perfiles de los que me tengo que ocupar”

El ORCID iD

<https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4608-752X>

- Identificador persistente y único para personas vinculadas a la investigación (researchers y contributors)
- Código alfanumérico de 16 caracteres
- Conforme con la norma ISO 27729
- Para crear uno, ir a <https://orcid.org/signin>

- Solo realizable por el usuario (siguiendo el principio user-driven de ORCID).
- La información contenida no se combina (sólo el email), se mantiene solo la del iD principal.
- Las instituciones pueden coleccionar el iD principal mediante autenticación.

INTEROPERABILITY

¿Qué es eso de la interoperabilidad?

Para los investigadores, interoperabilidad = ahorrar tiempo

Juan Luis Manfredi @juanmanfredi · 20h

Lecciones de transformación digital para la investigación académica que aprendo de Portugal. Estoy en un proyecto, o más bien, formo parte de un proyecto competitivo en Portugal.

Juan Luis Manfredi @juanmanfredi · 20h

Mi CV cuelga de su plataforma a través de ORCID. No tengo que hacer nada (subir, formatear, reducir a 4 hojas de CVN). Solo tengo que autorizar a que el Ministerio tome la información que tengo ahí almacenada.

Juan Luis Manfredi @juanmanfredi · 20h

En investigación, el tiempo es limitado. Como IP del plan nacional, pelear con los formatos de CV, propuesta y demás es un martirio.

@SebLeon5

Been cropping/shuffling/editing my CV too many times in the past weeks to please various funding agencies' requests & formats. So much research time wasted - cos' it's just same old me, whoever is asking. Why can't they just ask & check @ORCID_Org ID, at least for publications?

@paimadhu

It is so frustrating to deal with multiple passwords across all the journals we submit to, or review for.

Some journals now allow us to login via @ORCID_Org ID - this is incredibly helpful! Should be standard across all journals.

Who can review?

- To publish an open review reviewers must sign in via ORCID and must possess five peer reviewed scholarly works associated in their ORCID account.
- Reviewers are invited by an Editor and authors are also free to invite reviewers to review their paper openly.
- All open reviews must be conducted in line with UCL Open publishing, open peer review and open commenting policies
- Looking into co-contributor reviews.
