Contribution roles in the ORCID record

CReditT (Contributor Roles Taxonomy) is a high-level taxonomy, including 14 roles, that can be used to represent the roles typically played by contributors to scientific scholarly output. The roles describe each contributor's specific contribution to the scholarly output.

Is it currently possible to connect a preprint with a peer reviewed article on an ORCID record?

Linking preprints with peer reviewed journal articles (or other versions)

- Preprint service provider collects author iD and connects the preprint to the ORCID record with the identifier (e.g. DOI and rel "self")
- Publisher collects author iD and connects to ORCID record
 - peer reviewed journal article with identifier (e.g. DOI rel "self")
 - preprint with identifier (e.g. DOI rel "version of")
- Preprint(s) & peer reviewed journal article grouped together on the ORCID record

"Building trust through this process of constant checking and improvement is vital not only for other researchers in the field, but for the wider research community, as well as for policy-makers and the general public. (...) Exposing the process of scholarship helps all round."

Trust as an Ethic and a Practice in Peer Review
Alice Meadows, Jasmine Wallace, Karin Wulf

ORCID supports multiple external identifier relationship types:

- Self: the identifier refers solely to that work and can be grouped with other works that have the same identifier. Example is a DOI
- Part of: the work is part of this identifier and cannot be grouped with other works. Example is an ISSN
- Version of: these identifiers apply to alternate versions of the work and can be grouped with self and version of identifiers. Used to relate multiple versions of a dataset together, or to group preprints with the published version of a paper.

ABOUT THIS BOARD

The Product Roadmap contains requirements we have committed to implementing. Cards move from here to current development.

THIS IS A PUBLIC BOARD - PLEASE NOTE THAT IT IS SUBJECT TO CHANGE

The EPIC column contains groups of work that are interdependent. All EPICs stay on this board, link to their children and vice-versa.

The 'scheduled for development' column contains work that will move to current development in the next few cycles. It is limited to 15 cards.

product development Strategy
Comms Engagement
User experience Tech

Cards must contain WHO, WHAT, WHY and be tagged with the sponsor name and estimate.
